

Head and Neck Cancer Support and Social Group

The Head and Neck Support and Social Group gives people who have been diagnosed with head and neck cancer an opportunity to meet others who may have had a similar experience to themselves or their family member.

How can the group help me?

- You may have been recently diagnosed and want more information.
- You may have completed your treatment and want to find out how others have coped.
- You might want support, advice and information.
- You may just want to see a friendly face!

When does the group meet?

The group meets 4 to 5 times per year and is facilitated by Jackie Jones, Macmillan Clinical Nurse Specialist in Head and Neck Oncology and Zahida Khatoun, Cancer Support Nurse.

You are more than welcome to bring along family, carers or a friend with you. Light refreshments are available, and occasionally guest speakers are invited.
